

Hope Star

VOLUME 35—NUMBER 163

(AP)—Stearns Associated Press (NEA)—Meyers Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n

HOPE, ARKANSAS, TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1934

The Hope founded 1890; Hope Daily Press, 1927; consolidated as Hope Star, January 18, 1928.

PRICE 5c COPY

DILLINGER HEADS FOR EAST

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

BLITHEVILLE is blazing a new trail for Arkansas' citizens in their fight to take direct relief off the shoulders of the federal treasury and place it upon the local community, where it belongs.

British Aroused by Japs' Ultimatum; America to Wait

United States Stands Aside for Further China Developments

JAPS FEAR ALLIES

Tokio Watching for Signs of U. S.-British Consolidation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—There were strong indications Tuesday that the United States intends, for the time being at least, to remain a mute bystander in any international complications that might arise from Japan's statement of policy toward China.

England Excited

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Word that the Japanese cabinet had affirmed a hands-off-China policy was received here Tuesday in the London press and in political circles. Two afternoon newspapers featured the announcement that the Japanese air force will be practically doubled within the next three years.

Japan Watches U. S. A.

TOKYO, Japan.—(AP)—Confronted by Great Britain's demands for clarification of Japan's statement of April 17 concerning the empire's China policy, official Tokyo Tuesday awaited an indication as to whether the United States would follow suit in a sign of Anglo-American solidarity.

Thus far, no evidence has developed in Tokyo that the United States would follow Great Britain's lead.

The Associated Press learned that the State Department has not acted in that direction.

"Asia for Asians"

GENEVA, Switzerland.—(AP)—A doctrine of "Asia for Asians" under the leadership of Japan, acting in close collaboration with other Asiatic powers, "officially" was enunciated by the Tokyo government Monday through Consul General Uchiro Yokoyama.

In a prepared statement issued as a warning to the world, he declared that Japan will oppose various forms of foreign aid to China "under whatever guise" which may disturb the peace, because "Japan must fulfill her duty as an international defender of the peace in Eastern Asia."

The pronouncement expressed a fear that "civil war leaders" or "parasites of the anti-Japanese movement" are seeking help through "various kinds of economic, financial, and technical" aid and actions from "third powers" in order to get the means for fighting against adversaries or neighboring countries.

This, the manifesto contended, "endangers peace."

Yokoyama's manifesto was in explanation of a statement last week by a Tokyo Foreign Office spokesman that help to China that might become a political aid would be opposed by Japan. The statement was variously interpreted in other capitals as a "hands-off-China" or a "Monroe doctrine" policy.

Today's declaration argued that the help of foreign powers to China may be harmful and added: "Japan wishes to affirm its firm will to assume responsibility for peace in Eastern Asia in close collaboration with the Asiatic powers, notably China, in warning Chinese leaders or foreigners against the danger of enterprises which favor the fermentation of internal or external trouble. "The Monroe doctrine is not very clear as to just what it means"—a reference to the linking of that doctrine and the restored Japanese policy.

"Countries like Siam and the Philippines," he said, should be considered as participating in the responsibilities for peace in the Far East. His statement was issued at a press conference.

Britain Asks Explanation

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—The House of Commons learned today that the British government has sent a "friendly communication" to Tokyo asking a clarification of objections a Japanese Foreign Office spokesman made last week to financial assistance given China.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, informed the legislators that he had received from the British ambassador in Tokyo the text of an "informal statement" by a Japanese spokesman, but had no notice from the Japanese Blitheville is selling scrip at $1 apiece, depositing this guarantee in a local bank—and then selling 2-cent stamps, one stamp to be placed upon the scrip each time it changes hands. The relief funds are to be obtained not from the sale of the scrip, for which money is always available for redemption, but from the sale of the stamps which must be placed on the scrip each time it is used.

The Blitheville Courier News reports approximately $7,500 of scrip now in circulation, with the prospect of raising $1,000 per week for relief purposes.

X X X

Continues the Courier News: The novelty of accepting as money the certificates, which look more like cigar coupons than like Uncle Sam's well known greenbacks, promises to wear off quickly. After all, there is $1 in cash on deposit in trust for the redemption of each $1 of scrip in circulation, so no one risks the loss of more than the 2 cents needed to pass the scrip on to someone else.

With nearly all business men agreeing to accept the certificates at face value they will soon be as common as dollar bills in Blitheville, and as readily negotiable.

X X X

The case for county consolidation is carried to drastic lengths in Illinois where the Chicago Herald & Examiner is urging the state to cut down from 102 counties to 6.

Says the Herald & Examiner:

Whatever reasons there were for 102 counties when it took all day to travel 40 or 50 miles, there are none whatever now that as many miles can be covered by auto in an hour.

A study of the map (printed by the Herald & Examiner) showing the state divided to conform with modern developments reveals the fact that each of the proposed six divisions contains an important center of population and is based on community of interest, contiguity and general conditions.

Arkansas is being urged to reduce her counties from 75 to something like 25 or 30.

Measured by the campaigns under way in other states we are being very conservative.

To cut out two-thirds of our counties wouldn't quite increase the average county to the size of its judicial district.

The Eighth judicial district, for instance, includes: Miller, Hempstead, Lafayette, Nevada and Clark counties. The farthest-east city, Arkadelphia, is within an hour's drive of Hope or Prescott, in the center, and an hour and three-quarters from Texarkana, farthest west.

How absurd to continue keeping up five separate local governments in an area only 1 hour and 45 minutes across!

Certainly this remains the most important change confronting the people of Arkansas in this day and age.

Additional Victors in District Meet

Hope Senior Glee Clubs Win for Third Consecutive Year

Through an error The Star, in reporting results of District 10 literary meet held at Lewisville Friday and Saturday omitted some of the events in which Hope students were winners. The report should have included:

(Continued on page five)

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(Continued on Page Three)

Donkey Ball Game 8 p.m. Wednesday

Kiwanis vs. Rotary, With Second Game Played Trade Day

Young Business Men to Play Winning Team Thursday Night

ANOTHER AUCTION

Many Items Listed for Free Auction 10 A. M. Thursday

American's new comedy game—Donkey baseball—will make its first appearance here Wednesday night. Thursday nights as a feature of the third Trades Day event sponsored by the Young Business Men's association.

The game is said to be the funniest thing ever introduced into the sports kingdom. All players with the exception of the pitcher and catcher, are required to ride trained Texas donkeys, smart animals they are, have the reputation of doing the most unexpected things at the most unexpected time.

There will be two games. The scene of battle will be the high school athletic field. The first contest is scheduled for Wednesday night, starting at 8 o'clock.

Kiwanis vs. Rotary

The Kiwanis club will oppose the Rotary club. The winner will play members of the Young Business Men's association in the final game Thursday night.

Here is the Kiwanis line-up: Whit-tier, catcher; McDowell and Jones, pitchers; O. Williams, 1b; D. Rodgers, 2b; Sid Bundy, ss; W. S. Atkins, 3b; Dewey Hendrix, lf; W. Davis, cf; W. Compton, rf. R. V. Herndon will act as manager. A. B. Spragins will be the coach. Wayne England has been assigned as doctor. Joe Floyd and M. Mossani will be substitutes.

Rotary mule riders will be: Teddy Jones, pitcher; Frank Ward, catcher; Frank Stanley, 1b; Buss Presley, 2b; Bob Morris, 3b; Leon Carrington, ss; C. C. Lewis, rf; Albert Graves, cf; Terrell Cornelius, lf.

Charles Dana Gibson has been selected as umpire.

The line-up of the young business men's team will be announced in a story Wednesday.

The prize stakes, 12 of them, were to arrive in Hope Tuesday night, according to a telegram received here by Roy Stephenson, a member of the Young Business Men's association.

The game is played with a soft, indoor baseball and under regulation rules with a few exceptions. The greatest exceptions is that the fielders and base runners must stay with their donkeys. After the batter has hit the ball he must then mount his donkey and attempt to get to first base.

But the rub of the game is the fielders must retrieve the ball while they are mounted on their donkeys. It is said the donkeys run so fast and hard in their efforts to get safe and go to sleep that sometimes they pass out far out in "no man's land," leaving the runner stranded with no transportation and plenty of places to go.

A full detail of donkey baseball rules will be found on another page in this issue of The Star.

Auction Thursday

Other features of Thursday will be a free public auction, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning, conducted by Silas Sanford, auctioneer. Articles to be sold will range from baby cradles to 16-gauge shotguns. The sale will take place on a vacant lot at the rear of L. & A. Frisco depot.

Here are a few articles listed with Mr. Sanford for sale:

Shotgun, 10-gauge; several gallons of ribbon cane syrup, rifle, 22-caliber; sorghum seed, pump engine, seven head of geese, rabbits, a baby cradle, half dozen singletrees, set of eagle claws, new ground stock, set of log bumpers, one log binder, one gasoline range, two sets of stock and dies.

At 3:30 Thursday afternoon a parade will be staged in the downtown section. In the parade will be 13 trained Texas donkeys, members of the Stork baseball team and possibly members of the local National Guard.

Following the parade awarding of prizes will be held at the rear of Frisco L. & A. depot to persons holding Trade Day tickets given by merchants co-operating in this event.

Thursday night the final donkey baseball game will be played at the high school athletic field, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Kiwanis good-will tour to Saratoga scheduled for Friday night, has been postponed a week because of an old fiddlers contest at Blevins. The club, however, will hold its regular weekly meeting. The trip to Saratoga will be made next week, Charles Dana Gibson, Kiwanis president, said.

Bulletins

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Fay Hempstead, secretary of the grand lodge of Arkansas, Free and Accepted Masons, and poet laureate of Free Masonry, was in a critical condition at his home Tuesday. The 63-year-old Masonic leader has been ill for two years, and in recent days has been sinking rapidly.

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—A motion for rehearing which automatically holds in abeyance the recent supreme court decision holding insufficient the ballot titles on petitions for a referendum on the 1933 Department of Education reorganization act, was filed Tuesday.

Code Eagle to Be Applied for Now

Applications Must Be Filed at Little Rock at Once

Application blanks for the Code Blue Eagle, which must be filled in and mailed immediately to the state compliance director at Little Rock by all business houses and industries for which individual trade codes have been approved, were distributed from Hope postoffice Tuesday.

The letter accompanying the blanks was signed by Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, reading as follows: "To the Head of every Business Establishment:

"If you are engaged in a trade or industry for which a Code of Fair Competition has been approved, a special Blue Eagle has been prepared for your particular business. Its display by you will inform the public that you are co-operating with the vast majority in stamping out unfair practices and methods of competition and that you are giving your employees a square deal in paying code wages and adhering to code hours."

"Last year you were asked to display the Blue Eagle as evidence of your promise to do your part and as a symbol of your faith in the ability of American trade and industry to defeat depression by united effort. This year you are asked to display this distinctive Blue Eagle as a symbol that you, together with the other members of your particular trade or industry, have united to complete the work of recovery."

Juvenile Car Thief Freed, Sent Home

James Hill, 15, Gotten Out of Jail by Herndon Family

James Hill, 15, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was en route home Tuesday after spending several days in the county jail at Washington, charged with stealing an automobile here from R. V. Herndon.

The youth was arrested at Donaldson when he attempted to sell the stolen car to a policeman for $25. He was returned here, given a hearing in municipal court and bound over to the grand jury. In lieu of bond he was placed in jail at Washington.

A few days later Mrs. Herndon made up a public donation, obtained the youth's release from jail, dressed him up in new clothes and bought him a ticket home.

Hill was placed on a train here late Monday afternoon. He is due to arrive in Chattanooga at 6:10 Tuesday p. m.

Hill's mother and father are separated. The lad had been living in Fort Worth, Texas, for several weeks. He was en route to Chattanooga when he came through Hope and decided to steal the automobile.

Nevada Co. Farmer Is Suicide at 75

P. A. Woodruff Shoots Himself to Death at Willisville

P. A. Woodruff, 75, farmer, shot and killed himself Monday at his home near Willisville, southern Nevada county.

Failing eye-sight and ill health were said to have been responsible for his act. Officers said that Woodruff threatened the life of his son and daughter, driving them from his home at Prescott.

It could not be learned here what funeral and burial arrangements are being made.

8-Year-Old Girl May Become Fifth Queen of Great Britain

Princess Elizabeth, who may some day hold the reigns of England's vast empire, is shown (right) in a recent picture with her sister, Princess Margaret Rose. The hobby horse they are riding is the one used by their mother, the Duchess of York, in her childhood days.

Daughter of Duke of York Heir Apparent

Princess Elizabeth Likely to Succeed to Throne, as Prince of Wales, Her Uncle, Remains Unwed

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—Princess Elizabeth, the King of England's favorite granddaughter—who, in all human probability, will some day reign over Great Britain as the second Queen Bess—is getting to be a big little girl, so to speak.

She was eight years old last Saturday and is tall, straight, strong and sturdy for her age. Her fair hair, blue eyes, winsome smile and utter naturalness have already become well known to thousands of Londoners, who know her by sight, and have endeared her to the people whose Queen she will be.

But, just at present, Queening is one of the remotest thoughts in her young head. For her troubles are in the offing. Up to now she has had her teaching at the hands of her governess, Miss Marion Crawford, a graduate of the high school at Dunfermline, Scotland. This is to be continued probably for another year or so and then the little girl will be sent to some select private school chosen by her parents, the Duke and Duchess of York.

Studies and Slings

The Princess has already successfully wrestled with the famous three R's—reading, writing and arithmetic. It is said she writes a very legible hand, knows her share of primary geography and has already learned by heart many little poems of her mother's native country of Scotland. She also sings some of the old Scotch songs and has made good progress in dancing. So much is the latter the case that one of her chief delights last summer was the gathering at Broom's where some of the best adepts at Scotch ancient dances gave an exhibition. She has also made some progress in elementary French and in a year or so German will be added to the curriculum. Up to now, her lessons have been confined to a few hours daily, largely in the most delightful open air surroundings, either in the garden of Buckingham Palace, or in the lawn of Royal Lodge, the summer home of her parents at Windsor Great Park.

She will have longer hours of classes and study when she is sent to a private school. Her parents think that the natural rivalry between pupils and the mixing with other chil-

Riots Shake Auto Plants on Strike

Disorders Accompany Labor Trouble at Cleveland and St. Louis

By the Associated Press
A walkout of automobile workers in Cleveland and St. Louis accompanied by disorders at the Fisher Body Company plant in the Ohio city, brought to a head Monday night the long capital-union labor controversy in the automotive industry.

About half the 8,000 Fisher employees in Cleveland went on strike Monday. At St. Louis, 3,100 Fisher and Chevrolet workers followed suit.

(Continued on page five)

Great Roundup by Government Men Apparently Fails

Midnight Raid on Wisconsin Oil Station Spurs Searches

100 PICKED AGENTS

Formidable Federal Army Mustered Against Flashy Desperado

COLUMBUS, (AP)—The state highway patrol radio station at 1:15 Tuesday afternoon broadcast a flash saying that a car believed to contain the Dillinger gangsters was seen at Muncie, Ind., heading east toward Ohio.

Raid in Wisconsin

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—A midnight raid on an Ellsworth (Wis.) oil station by three men who kidnaped the proprietor, Tuesday intensified the search for the Dillinger gangsters in the Twin City area.

Victor Langer, proprietor, later was released after the gangsters robbed him of $35.

Great Roundup

MERCER, Wis.—(AP)—Through the wooden wilds of the north country, freshly white with snow, an army of determined men, hunted big game Tuesday—John Dillinger, crafty as a fox and ruthless as the wolf that sometimes prowls the brush-sharpened timberlands of northern Wisconsin.

The Indiana gangster continued to elude one of the most extensive man-hunts the northlands have known. Though Dillinger's luck is holding, the feeling is strong among the hunters that he is close to his last stand.

The government has nearly 100 picked men on the job, many drafted from points as distant as Philadelphia and Washington.

"Sentinels" were expressed again that Dillinger dead would be more desirable than Dillinger alive.

Caper Is Short

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—(AP)—John Dillinger, an obscure convict with no claim to notoriety, was paroled from the Indiana penitentiary last June. He had been a "good boy" until the attempted robbery for which he received a 10-to-21-year sentence, friends and officials told the state clemency board. They said he was needed at home "to help care for his aged father."

Gov. Paul V. McNutt granted the parole and young Dillinger went free. Six months later the "good boy" had become the most hunted desperado in the country.

His gang operated in Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Michigan. It killed, robbed banks, freed members from prison and jail and raided police stations to get firearms.

Finally Dillinger and three others were captured at Tucson, Ariz. He was returned to Indiana in irons and placed in the Lake county jail.

Swearing "guilt" he made a sensational escape and joined up, so officers said, with another band of outlaws.

Fourteen killings are charged against Dillinger and his pals, either by the gang itself or in connection with the hunt for the desperado. The most recent were those of a Department of Justice agent and a CCC worker near Mercer, Wis., Monday.

Dillinger's first brush with the law after his parole came last September 22. He was arrested at Dayton, O., as a suspect in several bank robberies.

Four days later 10 convicts, several of them armed, made a daring escape from Indiana state prison, shooting an employee and kidnapping a sheriff. One of the 10 was James Jenkins, brother of Mary Longaker, at whose home Dillinger had been captured at Dayton.

Authorities at once accused Dillinger of plotting the escape. Maps and drawings found in his possession strengthened their belief.

Dillinger remained in custody in Ohio. Indiana authorities sought his return, but he was turned over to the Lima (O.) sheriff on a bank robbery charge.

Then came a spectacular raid on the Lima jail to loose Dillinger. Half a dozen Dillinger henchmen freed their leader and fled.

Markets

Hope Cotton Exchange

	New York Cotton	Open	High	Low	Close
May	11.41	11.46	11.13	11.16-17
July	11.56	11.63	11.29	11.32
	New Orleans Cotton
May	11.38	11.48	11.17	11.19-20
July	11.54	11.61	11.30	11.33-34
	Little Rock Produce
Hens, heavy breeds, per lb.	9	to 12c
Hens, Leghorn breeds, per lb.	8	to 9c
Broilers, per lb.	7	to 8c
Roosters, per lb.	15	to 18c
Ducks, per lb.	3	to 4c
Geese, per lb.	6	to 7c
Turkeys, per lb.	12	to 13c
Eggs, per dozen	11	to 12c

Traffic Is Tied Up by Injured Horse

Boys Lead Animal Out on Trestle, Falls Between Ties

CAMDEN, Tenn.—(P)—A horse had a week on a railroad trestle here last week-end and four trains had to wait until the track was cleared. Circumstances conspired to get the horse in a tough spot high up over the Tennessee river but it took a crew of Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis section men to get her out. Tought three CCC youths, Sheriff J. McAuley of Benton county reported, were in county jail here charged with obstructing the railroad, which is the line between Nashville and Memphis. The sheriff said the three, whom he identified as Frank Shepherd, 20, John Matthews, 20, and Woodrow Sartan, 18, had started with the animal, a blooded filly, from the property of H. B. Pafford, superintendent of Pilot Knob state park. "Sometime after midnight they rode the horse across the trestles," said the sheriff. "We tracked the animal from Pafford's place. Then they came to the third trestle. The first two have blanks running across them and the horse got over all right. "But the third one has a draw-bridge section in the middle so boats can pass. When the boys came to this section they started to lead the horse across. She got about half way over and then slipped. All four feet went between the ties. "She lost her footing when a night watchman shined his light in her eyes to see what was coming down the track. The boys ran away as fast as they could. "The watchman notified the railway agent of the mishap. One train was stopped at the bridge. Three others were held at Johnsonville. None was a passenger train. They were delayed about four hours until section crews could rescue the horse. But her legs were broken and she had to be shot. "The horse, said the sheriff, was worth about $250. "When its police department came in to being more than 100 years ago, London was the most criminal place in the world; there was, on an estimate, one criminal for every 22 of the population in 1928.

Service to all Life Insurance policy holders. Wayne H. England Phone 475 205 First National Building

ETNA-IZE

CLOSEUP and COMEDY

by DAN THOMAS — GEORGE SCARBO

Freedom of Press Reaffirmed by F.D.

Still Possible for Anyone to Establish Paper of His Own

NEW YORK—(P)—The freedom of the press was affirmed by President Roosevelt last week-end in a letter to the International News Service, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary. "For a quarter of a century," Mr. Roosevelt wrote President Joseph V. Connolly, "the International News Service has rendered a great public service to the nation and I welcome this opportunity to extend warm and sincere congratulations upon the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of its establishment. "I do not believe it would be amiss here for me to say that I personally find high satisfaction in the knowledge that it is possible in this land of ours for anyone to establish a newspaper or a news service and to enjoy the freedom of operation guaranteed by our fathers and which, I am glad, to say, still prevails. I am glad, too, that our government never has seen fit to subsidize a newspaper or a news service and I dare to make the prediction that it never will."

Below London is a natural underground reservoir of water stretching about 30 miles north and south of the city and the same distance east and west.

GRIFFON SUITS with the emphasis on STYLE

$16.50 $22.50

Here's a chance to indulge your taste for the newest and smartest in style without putting a crimp in the bank roll! These GRIFFON suits are beautifully tailored of fine and exclusive fabrics—the kind that you've always wished you could afford. And they'll fit with that easy comfort which is the true characteristic of well made clothes. This season we are recommending the sport model with the belted back.

Ask For Trades Day Tickets
Gorham & Gosnell

The Ozark mountains rise in Illinois and cross the Mississippi river into Missouri and also are in Arkansas.

A human body does not exceed 118 miles an hour in falling from any height, according to U. S. Army statistics.

Great Salt Lake in Utah is more than four times as large as the Dead Sea.

VISIT OUR Spring Showing OF THE Frigidaire '34

Do you think all electric refrigerators are noisy and expensive? ... Do you think the ice trays of all electric refrigerators stick and have to be pried or hammered loose? ... Do you think defrosting all electric refrigerators is a nuisance? Then visit our Spring Showing of the Frigidaire '34 and see what's happened in electric refrigeration! The Frigidaire '34 has automatic ice tray release... the trays slide out at a touch of your finger! It has automatic defrosting... turns itself on after defrosting is completed! There are models that have adjustable shelves, greater hydrator capacity, Lifetime Porcelain inside and out. Learn why proud families are boasting, "Ours is a Frigidaire '34."

EVERY YEAR THE BEST OF THE YEAR

AMAZING ECONOMY! SEE THE FRIGIDAIRE THAT ACTUALLY USES LESS CURRENT THAN ONE ORDINARY LAMP BULB

$99.50

Plus Freight DELIVERED AND INSTALLED

Hempstead County Lumber Company
Frigidaire Sales Service
Phone 89

STANDINGS

Club	W	L	Pct.
Detroit	3	1	.750
New York	3	2	.600
Boston	3	3	.500
Philadelphia	3	3	.500
Cleveland	2	2	.500
St. Louis	2	2	.500
Washington	3	4	.429
Chicago	1	3	.250

Club	W	L	Pct.
Chicago	5	0	1.000
New York	5	1	.833
Brooklyn	4	1	.800
Pittsburgh	3	2	.600
Boston	2	3	.400
St. Louis	1	4	.200
Cincinnati	1	4	.200
Philadelphia	0	6	.000

Club	W	L	Pct.
Chattanooga	5	1	.833
New Orleans	5	2	.714
Memphis	4	3	.571
Birmingham	3	4	.429
Atlanta	2	3	.400
Nashville	2	3	.400
Knoxville	2	4	.333
Little Rock	2	5	.286

MONDAY'S RESULTS

American League
Open date.

National League
Open date.

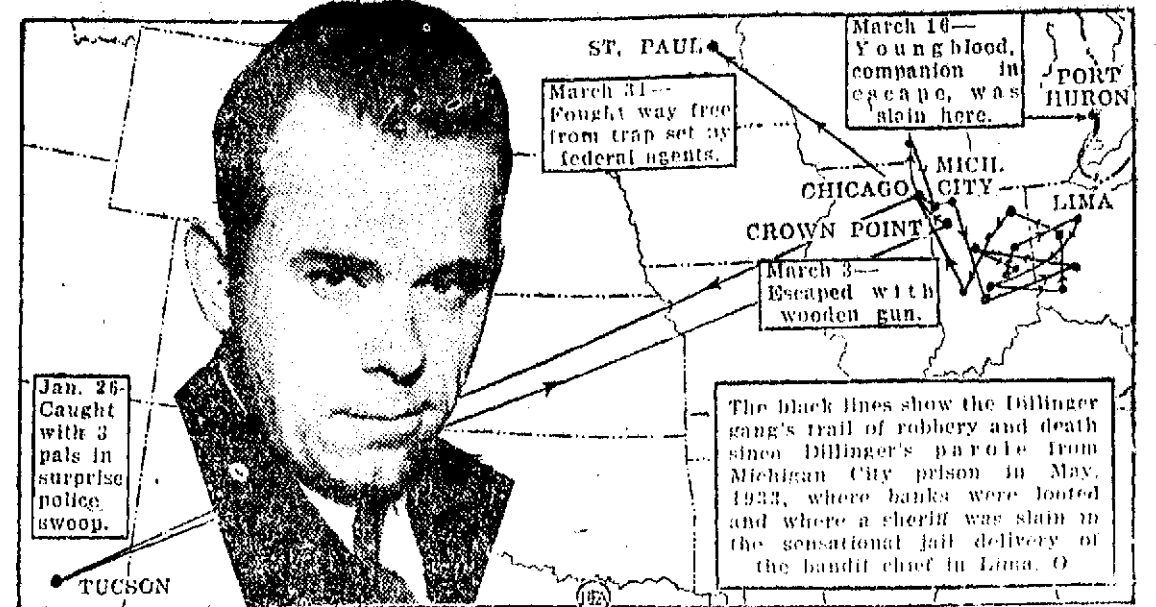

Southern Association
New Orleans 9, Little Rock 3.
Birmingham 9, Memphis 7.
Chattanooga 7, Atlanta 6.
Knoxville 9, Nashville 3.

Army Lays Aside Its Cavalry Sabre

Sword Is Obsolete in Modern Warfare—Cavalry Motorized

WASHINGTON—(P)—Sabers, one of the last vestiges of old style warfare, are to become museum pieces. The War Department issued orders last week-end that "based on improbability of their use in the future, the cavalry has been ordered to store its sabers. From the time that stone age ancestors of modern warriors fashioned their first swords out of sharpened flint until comparatively recent times, the sabre was one of an army's principal weapons. Development of modern firearms and trench warfare, however, brought use of the long blades to a minimum. As rapidly as possible, cavalry horses are being replaced with armored motor cars, and cavalrymen have not much use for a polished sabre in an auto. The Patmos-Hinton Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. Naith Rider, April 18, with Miss Griffin. The meeting was opened with a religious reading by Mrs. Tom Drake, followed with prayer by Mrs. George Powell. Miss Griffin gave a demonstration in sewing. Thirty-seven women were present. Several new members were added to the club. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Berlin Simmons.

Lurid Trail of Death and Robbery Left by Dillinger

More than $250,000 loot is the estimated haul of the John Dillinger gang in the 10 months since Dillinger was released on parole from Indiana state prison. Two policemen and a sheriff were slain and several officers wounded in the outlaw's spectacular terror reign, marked by two escapes from jail.

for TRADES DAY 500 HOUSE FROCKS 98c you'll want two or more

Every one of these beautiful new frocks are guaranteed tub fast. Crisp new sheers and prints including the new Break-a-Way frocks in linene. Sizes 14 to 52.

Mens Pants $1.29

Men here's a real bargain. Hawk Brand pants made of genuine "Stiff" cloth. Light and dark patterns with 22 inch bottom and buckle on the side.

Dress Pants $1.48 $1.98

A new shipment showing many smart patterns has just arrived. All carry the 20 and 22 inch bottom.

Mens Overalls $1.25

Men's Hawk Brand Overalls in dark blue, Express Stripes and Liberty Stripes. High suspender backs and vest model. Sizes 31 to 44.

The Leading Department Store
Geo. W. Robison & Co.
We Give Eagle Stamps
Hope Prescott Nashville

We Sell Low and We're BUSY All the Time!

Smaller profits, faster selling—that's our idea of merchandising. And we look all over the United States for special advantages in buying our interesting stocks.

2-PIECE VELVET LIVING ROOM SUITES

$49.50

Don't miss seeing this beautiful 2-Piece Cromwell Velvet Living Room Suite. A special purchase allows us to feature this Suite at this bargain price.

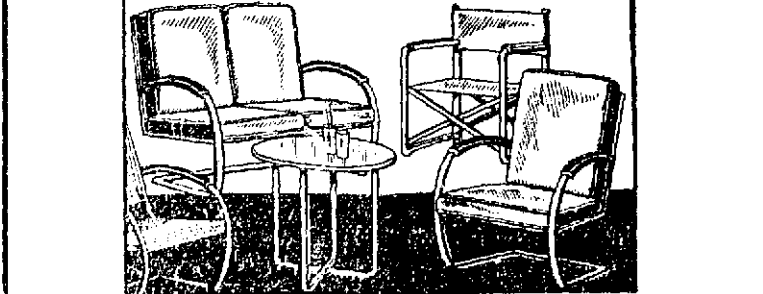

Triple Mirror Vanity Enhance the Beauty of this Splendid Bedroom Suite

$57.75

This suite will prove a source of pride in your home for many years to come. Bed, dresser, chest and vanity—

Keep healthy and happy this summer by spending your leisure time on your porch or in your yard. A very few dollars will equip you with the proper furnishings.

Hope Furniture COMPANY
PHONE FIVE

Society

MRS. SID HENRY TELEPHONE 321

Words

O. many a shift, at random sent,
Finds mark the archer little meant!
And many a word, at random spoke,
May soothe or wound a heart that's broke.
—Selected.

Circle No. 5 of the W. M. S. First Baptist church held their April meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. A. Hobbins, South Pine street, with Mrs. Franklin Horton and Mrs. Elmore Hedricks as associate hostesses. The regular Mission Study was in charge of Mrs. W. P. Agge, and the business hour was conducted by the circle leader, Mrs. Hugh Smith. Following the business meeting, the hostesses served a delightful ice course to 25 members and two visitors.

John Dawson, formerly of Hope, now of Camden, spent the week-end visiting with relatives and friends in the city.

We again call your attention to the splendid program that will be given on Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 at the Experiment Station under the direction of George W. Ware. This invitation is cordially extended to every woman in Hempstead county; there will be a lecture on propagation of shrubs, pruning of shrubs and roses, control of insects and diseases by spraying and setting out of ordinary trees, shrubs and evergreens and fertilization. Comfortable seats have been arranged, and Mr. Ware is doing everything possible to make the afternoon a pleasant one as well as a profitable one. It is an opportunity no home lover can afford to pass up, for how many of us have been disappointed in trying to root or move, or cultivate shrubs, without knowing the right way? Personal urge is being made by the Garden club to get a splendid representation of our women, and if they do not reach you personally, please note that this invitation is extended to every woman in Hempstead county. If you can go, and have no way of going, or if you will go and furnish your own car, please notify either Mrs. Clyde Hill, Mrs. A. F. Huneigan or Mrs. J. A. Henry.

The Choral Club will meet promptly at 9 o'clock, Wednesday morning at the home of the director, Mrs. J. C. Carlton.

Mrs. Houston Wolfe of Pine Bluff was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lex Wolfe.

A most helpful meeting of Circle No. 2 of the W. M. S. First Baptist church was held at 3 o'clock, Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. Collins, Fulton street, with Mrs. A. C. Kolb leading in the study of the mis-

JUST RECEIVED NEW Queen Make
FROCKS $2.98 UPWARD
THE GIFT SHOP

BABY CHICKS!
I have a wonderful assortment of baby chicks on hand that I am closing out at low prices. See them today!

OAKCREST HATCHERY
111 N. Walnut St.

SAENGER
Arkansas Largest and Finest

ENDING
We say it's worth seeing the second time!
George White's "Scandals"

WED-NITE ONLY

I Believed in You!
with
Rosemary Ames
Victor Jory
John Boles

Nelson-Huckins
LAUNDRY
We Sew On Buttons
PHONE 8

Farmer Is to Get AAA Record Books

2,318 Hempstead Men Will Keep Production Record

A new farm record book, which is now available, will be distributed to 2,318 farmers who have signed crop production control contracts in Hempstead county according to Frank R. Stanley, county agent.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

Each farmer in the county who has signed a cotton, corn-hog or rice contract will receive a new record book, in which he will be required to keep an accurate production record of his farming operations, Mr. Stanley said.

It was explained by Mr. Stanley that keeping records is a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's agreement with farmers who signed contracts, and will enable farmers to readily prove compliance with AAA contracts they have signed.

For The Farmer's Daughter

This new model tractor with Firestone low-pressure tractor tires made a big hit with the Virginia O'Brien dancers when this tractor made a trip through the downtown streets of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, recently. Manufacturers, farmers and farmers' sons are enthusiastic about tractor tires—now it looks as if even the farmers' daughters will get a thrill out of driving the rubber tired "iron horses."

$177,657 Paid to County in Rentals

Total of Nearly 11 Millions for Cotton Farmers of Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government added $177,657 to the wealth of Arkansas farmers in land rental and benefit payments for reduction of wheat and cotton acreage from inauguration of the program to March 21 this year.

A report issued by the Farm Administration showed that Mississippi county received the largest amount of any county of the state, its farmers being paid $864,837 in cotton benefits.

Crittenden county was second with $585,542, and Craighead next with $510,478.

Wheat payments were small in Arkansas, only two counties figuring in the program to reduce the wheat acreage. Farmers in Carroll county were paid $106,440 and those in Washington county $1,662.80.

Cotton payments by counties in Arkansas included:
Hempstead 177,657.52
Howard 71,844.40
Lafayette 139,815.10
Miller 208,517.76

Seventeen per cent of the world's total energy is supplied by human beings.

Too Late to Classify

FOR RENT: Five room house Gateway Park. $10.00 per month. J. E. Schooley. Phone 1639, 4 rings. 24-36

MISS BETTY KEDDER

Velen's Corrective Beauty Service
Kansas City, Mo.
Complimentary Beauty Treatment
One Week Only.
Call for Appointment

LEWIS BEAUTY SALON

Mrs. B. C. Lewis Phone 39

WHAT'S NEW IN TOILETRIES?

Richard Hudnut's new treatment line, Marvelous, is moderately priced and very complete from lip stick to tissue cream. Everything in the line is one price—50c.

Geral, the original make up for the hair, gives your hair a lustre as well as tinting it just the right shade with very little trouble.

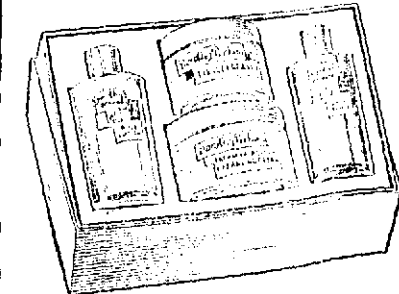

Barham Goul Hand Lotion has been reduced from $1.00 to 45c with no change in the famous nonstick formula.

John P. Cox Drug Co.

Phone 64 We Deliver We Give Eagle Stamps

COMBINATION OFFER

$2.00 Value for only $1

Dorothy Perkins

Week-End Treatment Set

Regular Price $1

Face Powder

Regular Price $1

NEW WEEK-END SET contains generous-size packages of four famous Dorothy Perkins beauty preparations. A set for Normal or Oily Skin, and one for Dry Skin. Dorothy Perkins Face Powder is the choice of thousands of discriminating women. A truly wonderful powder. Both the Set and Powder, ($2.00 value), for $1. (Only one to a person).

LADIES SPECIALTY SHOP

"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

Rules for Donkey Baseball

The game shall be played with all rules in common to professional "hard ball" baseball, with the following exceptions:

1. The ball played with shall be a regulation indoor baseball, and the bats used shall be indoor baseball bats.

2. The base shall be only sixty feet apart. There shall be a square four feet square marked off about each base and home plate. There shall be a pitcher's box and catcher's box that shall be ten feet wide and hit extends from behind home plate back to the backstop and past the pitcher's box ten feet, in other words a large rectangle starting at the backstop and extending ten feet behind the pitcher's box. The pitcher and catcher shall not be permitted, except to recover a foul ball, or when the ball is not in play, to get his feet out of this rectangle, and to do so will constitute the same thing as a balk and advance any players on base one base.

3. Each base runner and each base player must transport himself from base to base or to recover batted or thrown balls by means of his donkey. A base player cannot get his feet out of his base unless on his donkey—and a runner cannot leave his base except on his donkey.

4. Outfielders shall be permitted to take one step from their donkey in either catching or throwing the ball (to fall after the ball is constituted one step) but infielders while permitted to take one step from their donkey to fields the ball, must re-mount their donkey before throwing it or attempting a putout.

5. Each batter must when he has hit a fair ball transport himself from base to base on his donkey. On a force play the ball put into the basemen's hands and he on his donkey on the base, the runner shall be counted out, and in other cases the basemen must touch the runner (not his donkey) to be out.
6. The base runner shall be permitted to push out of his path another donkey, but any player who purposefully touches the reins of another player is out, if a baserunner, or if a base player or infielder, then the runner shall be advanced one base. Before each game each donkey shall be designated for a certain position and shall not be changed from that position. When three outs are made the side in the field gets all their donkeys and proceed to bat and the players in to bat take the field, mounting the donkeys left at the position for them.

8. No baseball gloves are used and no spurs or saddles on the donkeys.
1. nSpain wine is still carried in leather bottles made of pigskin. The skin is cured in one piece and made into a bottle holding, in some cases, as much as 40 gallons.

To Our Customers

We Are Continuing Our Specials on Permanents
$2.50 Oil Permanent

$1.00

Call Us for Appointment

LEWIS BEAUTY SALON
WHITE WAY BEAUTY SHOP
MARY'S BEAUTY SHOP
EUGENE BEAUTY SHOP

-- Trade Day Roundup --

Starting Thursday—Includes Friday and Saturday, we're offering you prices on new crisp Summer merchandise that you cannot afford to pass up.

Ask For Trades Day Tickets

SILK DRESSES

A large stock of over 125 Silk Dresses to select from, in Prints, Pastels and Whites. Rough weaves crepes, silk flat crepes and basketweave Rayons. They are marvelous values at these low prices—

$2.77 $3.77
and
$4.77

Summer Hats

Just unpacked—10 dozen of the newest Summer Hats—This lot includes New Flop Piques, Sisol Straws, Rough Crepes, Linens and countless other materials—All head sizes in wide or narrow brims—

98c

Pajamas

Snow White Pajamas bought to sell for $1.00—They are knockouts at—

69c

White Bervets

Plenty of White Bervets in dozens of different styles—Rayons or Cotton—

25c

— Trade Day Specials —

Kiddies Play Suits

Kiddies Play Suits in vat dyed colors

25c

Athletic Underwear

Close Out—Boys Summer Athletic Underwear—In good quality nainsook—

29c

Harvest Hats

Harvest Hats for Men, Women and Children—Peanut Straw—Outfit the family at this low price—

10c

Shorts and Shirts

Men's Shorts and Shirts—Shorts are fast color—Buy your summers supply at this low price—

19c Each

SUMMER SUITS

50 Men's Summer Suits—All Sanforized shrunk—Cool, comfortable and dressy. Men here's a suit for ordinary price of pair of dress pants. Good assortment of styles and colors at a price that everyone can afford to pay.

$2.95 $3.95
and $4.49

BURR STORES

Second and Elm

Hope, Arkansas

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc. (C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn), at The Star building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to prevent the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. E. McCormick.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 10c; six months $2.75; one year $5.00. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis, Tenn., Sterick Bldg.; New York City, Graybar Bldg.; Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker Drive; Detroit, Mich., 7338 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., The Star Bldg.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

Drinking Heavier, Louder, and More General in Capital Since Repeal . . . Dr. Wirt Doesn't Touch the Stuff . . . Lounges Do Heavy Business . . . Vodka's All the Rage Now . . . Barkeeps Object to Hiding Act

By RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—Washington handed prohibition to the country and Washington abolished it. Congress undertook to frame a model liquor control law for the capital, too. So this city seems a good test tube for post-repeal observation purposes. (Papers in dry areas please copy.)

Already a vociferous minority of wets wishes prohibition were back again. A wave of public drinking drowns the charm of private drinking. Liquor is sold in every one-arm lunch, chain store, and pharmacy. Officials who once obeyed the law now feel compelled to add alcohol to their social functions.

The police report no increase in arrests since repeal. But you wonder what's become of those who old us there'd be less drinking when liquor was easy to get and the titillating incentive of lawbreaking removed, or that there'd be a desertion of hard liquor for beer and wines.

Drinking among the young was a curse to prohibition. There's a lot more of it here now. High school kids present more than their usual problem.

Remember tempting promises to repealists that social groups would stop talking about the price and quality of hooch and turn to serious national problems?

They were no more prophetic than Hoover's 1928 guarantee of a prosperous millennium.

Droves of loud-mouthed men and women who were barred from the better speakeasies are now at large in hotels and restaurants. Hen parties are visible and painfully audible in every public drinking place.

All too often they break into rollicking song just to show what a happy, emancipated time they're having. This town boasts itself the most cosmopolitan in America, but it's a long way from the boasted drinking poise of Europeans.

Wirt's a Teetotaler

The pet story around Capitol Hill has been that Dr. Wirt owes his visions of Red revolution to too many cocktails at that Virginia party. Fact is, he didn't touch a drop. He's a teetotaler and firmly refused a cocktail.

Lounge Business Heavy

The swank hotels are still astonished by the heavy patronage of their new cocktail lounges.

Out of the Shoreham, where the lounge's walls are of pigskin leather and waitresses in the adjoining "Garden Room" are all supposed to look like Greta, they're still hoping to have dancing as originally planned. But customers so fill up the place that it's been impossible.

One reason is the new Mae West cocktail—brandy, grenadine, and lime—which makes the floor c'm up'n see you sometimes.

The Mayflower expanded cocktail facilities to seat 150 persons—and 750 rushed in the first day. It has resumed public dancing after three years, during which it insisted that hip flasks had ruined that form of amusement.

The Ambassador's Hi-Hat Cafe draws NRA and code authority folk, featuring its "drink of the week," which lately was "the Old Smoothie."

Frank McNey, the impresario there, who used to be with Dick Canfield, says it includes rye, grenadine, lime, fruit decoration, and seltzer.

All these lounges become mad-houses whenever a large convention is here.

Vodka's the Smart Drink

Russians are shrewd. Local liquor stores sold out of vodka soon after the Russian embassy's big reception. Vodka has become the "smart" drink, and such a large clientele is assured for that Soviet export that the party was an excellent commercial investment.

Vodka comes colorless or slightly greenish. Alcoholic content 59 per cent. American guests were taught not to sip it or dilute it. You just gulp it. It's well to take a zakuska or a gob of caviar just before and after.

Barkeeps Hate to Hide

The capital's "model law" says the customer can't see the bartender mixing his drinks. Bartenders, both long-some and anxious to show their stuff, are protesting to Congress.

So are customers, who want to know what they're getting.

(Copyright 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Keep Nervous Children From Too Many Moves—Emotional Reactions May Result in Fatigue

When I go to a movie I emote all over the place. No matter how bad—or how good—the show is, I have never learned to take it in my stride. I suffer and I hate. I love and I vindict; I do this and that and work harder than the back-seat driver who rivets his eyes on every inch of the road.

The other day, being of age, white and in my right mind, I went to two movies in one afternoon with an over-ambitious friend who wanted to see two good shows at once. One was Garbo, the other Hepburn, and that was a tall order.

At seven o'clock I dragged my nerve-racked body to the car at the curb and as soon as I reached a bed, fell in. No dinner. No nothing. I was a tired as if I had done a board-ing-house washing.

If you are the least interested so far, you may be saying: "No wonder! Sitting up for five hours straight running."

Emotions vs. Fatigue

Please listen, sister. I recently took a three-weeks sea trip and often sat in a deck chair longer than that. And I ate my dinner. Many a time I have gone to a bridge-luncheon and sat on what passed for a chair for five hours and then some. At my desk I often sit for more hours than that at a stretch. And I still eat my meals.

The answer is that emotion wears me out. It wears everybody out. This is what I should look at seriously in regard to the child and the movies.

It does not do to say that children have less reaction to fiction than grown-ups, because they don't. They have more. Not only that, but what they see is so real they remember, generally speaking, about ninety per cent of what they see. Their senses, too, are working as hard as their emotions because they never miss a trick.

If you want to know about an over-looked detail go and ask any child who has seen the same show.

I am not advising any mother to keep her children away from the movies. Anyway, it is too much to expect. Nor am I at the moment suggesting any type of picture. I believe in my heart that almost every mother knows what her child should not see.

Watching Nervous Child

The matter I have in mind is this. Why not space movies so that they won't cause too much nerve fatigue? And time them so that the child won't have to come home and study later?

There is real wear and tear in any form of excitement that uses up physical energy.

At certain times such excitement is of course relaxing, depending on what has preceded it, but again it is the precise opposite.

Very-easily-tired, or nervous children, can do with few movies. Others, who can take it, may wax fat and healthy on a picture diet. As usual, it depends a lot on the child himself.

Many things are to be considered. But if any warning is needed, I believe it to concern the physiological rather than the ethical effect of movies. Children have so much excitement in this day and age, especially in the cities, they will be worn out when they're thirty if we are not careful.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Mascara is the most flattering of all cosmetics—if it is used sparingly and correctly. Eyelashes, the nondescript kind, that are light on the ends and really aren't attractive frames for beautiful eyes, take on a new glimmer when their natural color is deepened by the application of a bit of mascara.

Once upon a time actresses were the only ones who used any sort of eye make-up and even they removed it the minute they reached their dressing rooms after the performances were over. Later, mascara and eyeshadow came to be used for formal evening wear and now they are correct on the street, the golf course—any place at all—the only rule being that a surplus of either isn't becoming and therefore is in bad taste.

Learn to apply your mascara in the

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR
© 1934 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a handsome youth accused of a murder he did not commit, escapes from Key West to Havana with two thieves, BRAVO and LOTTIE, in Havana, under the name of "Juanito," he becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a restaurant.

Pablito loves ESTELLE FIELD, daughter of rich Jim Field, and she loves him. They meet and plan to marry, but Field breaks up the affair, taking Estelle away. Two years later she becomes engaged to ALFRED DAVIES.

SIR AUBREY, titled Englishman and Pablito's father, has been searching for his son, but failing. BILLINGS, New York detective, believes Estelle faithless, Pablito loses his fortune and Davies breaks his engagement to Estelle. She and her father return to Havana. MARCIA TREADWAY, who knows Pablito is innocent of the murder charge, at last tells the truth.

Estelle writes Pablito, but, feeling he cannot break his engagement to Lottie, he does not go to Havana. Pablito, who has been denied Pablito as a child, comes to see him.

Lottie realizing she stands between Pablito and his happiness, breaks their engagement and departs.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVII

BILLINGS, who had written Pablito that Sir Aubrey wished to see him personally and asked for favor of Pablito's address in case he should change it at any time, was headed toward Cuba where he was to meet Sir Aubrey, also on his way there.

It would be hot in Cuba, Billings thought as he rode in the southward-speeding train on a warm August day. Yes, it would be hot in Cuba. But this would be his last trip on the case that had taken so long to untangle. The case that had held so much interest for him.

Marcia Treadway, at Como, had met the eyes of a woman who no longer knew her. And Marcia had smiled, seeing in this the sign that her tale was now an old one and that Pablito was safe.

Carlito was kneeling in the Church of the Angels, asking the gentle mother Christ to forgive him for his intent to kill Jim Field, who, before Carlito had reached this triumphant moment, had killed himself. Near Carlito was his son, "Madre Santissima de Jesus," Carlito entreated, "guard my son from the pain I have known and the evil that it caused!"

He left in the alms box a substantial part of his wages and stepped into the blistering heat of the dry street feeling that the gentle mother had smiled on him.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring northern ers to Cuba. Then again she would show the house to possible buyers—a little over-eagerly, perhaps, as she pointed out the beauties of the place and always stopping at the threshold of her father's office where one wet night he had looked the door after him before stepping through the door which is before all men.

Estelle, living in three rooms of the great house that had been her father's, thought bitterly of the transience of men's affections, as she waited for the coming of the winter that would bring

May Ask Russia to Enter League

Britain and Italy Hope Thus to Win Back the Germans

Copyright, 1934, Associated Press. LONDON.—An Anglo-Italian agreement on policies for reorganizing the League of Nations is the goal of conversations inaugurated Monday by British ministers and Fulvio Suvich, Italian undersecretary for foreign affairs.

This was disclosed Monday night and it was foreseen that Great Britain and Italy may take a common attitude toward the proposed entry of Russia into the League as a possible basis for Germany's return to Geneva.

Necessity for a new approach to European problems in order to prevent a threatened arms race and to restore prestige of the League, it was said, is recognized both in London and Rome.

The French government's recently-announced refusal to continue disarmament talks, except at Geneva, and the desire of France and some smaller powers to bring Russia into the League were pointed out as forcing Britain and Italy to formulate policies.

While both favor, in principle, Russia joining the League, it was indicated they may make important reservations. Italy is expected to insist that Germany's presence as a member of the League again must be assured before Russia is admitted.

The British government was described as alert to the "danger of turning the Geneva parleys into an anti-German hotbed."

Britain and France both insist that Germany's return to the League is essential to signing of a disarmament pact. The Reich left Geneva last fall when her statesmen charged she was being discriminated against in disarmament negotiations.

Pittsburgh Tries Deposit Insurance

Small Bank Failure Gives U. S. Chance for Quick Action

NEW YORK.—The closing of a small Pittsburgh suburban bank, due to liquidations, gives the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation its first opportunity to come to the rescue of depositors.

It is doing so with a flourish. The postoffice, to which the closed bank owes $387,000 of its $1,100,000 deposits, is the chief victim, and its deposits are protected amply by collateral. The procedure followed and the time required by the Deposit Insurance Corporation in settling the affairs of the closed bank, rather than the amount of money it has to put up to pay depositors with balances up to $2,500, will be watched by the banking community.

ADDITIONAL VICTORS

(Continued from Page One)

Boys and Girls senior high glee club won first places for the third consecutive year.

Junior high glee club—first place.

Senior high orchestra—first place.

Boys quarter-second place. The quartet is composed of Hendrix Spraggins, J. W. Harper, Arthur Whitehurst and Paul Jones.

Girls' Trio—third place. Entrants were Mary Agnes Redwine, Wanda Keith and Pauline Jones.

Boys' voice—fourth place; Hendrix Spraggins.

Policy Cited
A statement issued by the Farm

Authorities on the Business Situation

Dairy Program Is Rejected by AAA

Lack of Support by Farmers Leads to Program's Failure

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Confronted by strong opposition, the Farm Adjustment Administration Monday abandoned, for the time being at least, the national milk control program it had proposed to help dairy farmers. The milk plan's failure was the first instance where producers had rejected an administration proposal for the benefit of a major farm commodity.

Chester C. Davis, farm administrator, announced at a press conference that the milk program had been withdrawn because we do not feel that it has sufficient support from the farmers. He added, however, that should sentiment for the plan develop it might be revived in its original, or a modified form.

Minor portions of the milk program, including dairy purchases for relief purposes and the reduction in the number of diseased cattle are to be carried out. The program, worked out after months of study and argument, called for benefit payments of from $155,000,000 to $300,000,000 to dairymen who joined in the plan. The producers were to reduce their milk flow 10 per cent below the peak months of the 1932-1933 period. The funds for benefit payments were to come from a processing tax.

Policy Cited
A statement issued by the Farm

Administration said the milk decision "is in accord with the administration's fixed policy to attempt no adjustment program which does not have the support of a substantial majority of those engaged in the industry."

Davis told reporters he felt that one reason for the program's rejection was that "the opposition bent us to the country." He explained that those who fought the milk plan made their views known before the program was explained to producers over the country.

Davis said the National Co-operative Milk Producers Federation was one of the organizations which strenuously urged rejection of the plan.

He said he sponsored the legislation because he considered it "reasonable." Fletcher indicated he would ask that the securities act be strengthened by an amendment to put bondholders' protective committees under the Federal Trade Commission, saying he had received many complaints that bondholders could get no information from these committees and that they were dominated by bankers.

NEW FEDERAL BILL

(Continued from Page One)

Still Fight for McLeod Bill
A house bloc sought support for a new petition under which they hoped to force a record vote by May 14. It acted after a stormy two-hour session during which forces working for the McLeod bill were repeatedly defeated. The McLeod measure would authorize the government to free the frozen assets of closed banks and pay off the claims.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

It seems that the temperature of water is a small point to emphasize, but the woman who has kept house for years knows that it's attending to the small things that makes for efficiency in household affairs.

Of course vegetables must be "crisp" in very cold water, but for the first washing to remove the sand and grit you will find that tepid water does the trick in half the time. Spinach, leaf lettuce, broccoli, all the root vegetables, asparagus and beans are more easily washed in water that is lukewarm or even warmer.

Warm water should be used to spray house plants. In order to remove the accumulation of dust from the leaves. Here again tepid water is more efficacious than cold.

In Washing Furniture

For the washing of painted woodwork and furniture, warm soapsuds is used. A heavy lather first, then a cloth wrung out of warm, clear water and a final polish with a soft cloth and all finger marks and smudges disappear like magic. For finished natural-woods, complete the cleaning with a rubbing with furniture polish or liquid wax. For mahogany furniture, use chamois in place of cloth—one for the washing and another for the rinsing.

Very hot or boiling water is the simplest and quickest way to remove fruit stains from table cloths and napkins. If the whole cloth does not need laundering, stretch the place with the stain in embroidery hoops and pour hot water through.

If you use hot water to sprinkle clothes they will be ready for ironing within fifteen or twenty minutes. A garment or piece of linen dampened with hot water and rolled tight is of the same dampness all over and irons as easily as one which was dampened with cold water and allowed to stand

Tomorrow's Menu.

Breakfast: Sliced bananas with canned or stewed dried apricots, cereal, cream, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Onion and celery soup, toast sticks, cottage cheese and carrot salad, date and nut bread and butter sandwiches, lemonade.

Dinner: Veal birds, new peas in cream, stuffed tomato salad, chocolate rice pudding, milk, coffee.

over night. Try it some day when you are in a hurry to iron and can't wait to "dampen down" the laundry. Always put fresh vegetables on to cook in boiling water. The cooking time is shortened, there is less loss of food value, and their color is preserved when they are started in boiling water.

In Gelatin Desserts

Molded gelatin desserts and salads as well as those frozen in molds are easily removed from the molds for serving if they are plunged into a pan of hot water for a few seconds. They should be kept in the hot water just long enough to melt the gelatin or frozen mixture against the metal of the mold, and this won't take even a minute.

You can hasten the rising of your rolls if, after they are shaped and in the pans, you place them in a cupboard near a pan of steaming water and close the door tightly. The moist warmth will penetrate the dough and make the rolls rise quickly. This is particularly well worth keeping in mind when making ice-box rolls because these take double the time for rising that ordinary rolls do.

The raw taste of so many uncooked icings is overcome if the icing is permitted to stand over hot water for fifteen or twenty minutes. Also you can keep icings in a pliable condition

Wife Beats Card Sharps to Roll

Mrs. Oscar Johnson Clears Up Mystery of Hubby's Robbery

STAMFORD, Ct.—(AP)—The rapidly growing "Guilty Conscience Club" in this state gained another member Monday.

Mrs. Oscar Johnson made a confession and cleared a mystery of a month's standing as to what happened to her husband's $390.

Just before boarding a liner in New York which was taking the couple to Sweden, Mrs. Johnson produced the missing sum and told the Greenwich police, who had been called in on the case, that she had removed the money from her husband's coat while he slept to prevent "card sharps" from getting it.

The night the money disappeared Johnson had lost $175 in a poker game and complaining to Greenwich police that he had been robbed of $390 more which had been sewed in a lining in his coat.

RIOTS SHAKE AUTO

(Continued from Page One)

let workers quit. Recognition of the union was the chief demand.

A crowd of 6,000 strike sympathizers swarmed around the Cleveland plant and mounted police had difficulty in preserving order. Minor picketing disturbances occurred at St. Louis.

The National Automobile Labor Board was seeking a basis for settlement.

Two thousand filling station attendants at Cleveland remained on strike, tying up operations of the major oil companies. Strikes at three Toledo automotive plants involved 1,900 workers.

A fracas developed at Sheboygan, Wis., as 400 workmen tried to break through a striker's picket line at the Gorham Toy Company plant. Fists and rocks flew and several persons were slightly injured. Police used tear gas and arrested 20 pickets.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt was at work on a plan for establishment of a permanent court to settle the many labor controversies, including the railroad wage dispute, which are being checked up to federal boards and the White House, itself. A committee was reported drafting a revision of the Wagner labor board bill.

Thousands of striking soft coal miners started back to the diggings yesterday as the result of the new wage structure ordered by Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, restoring or partly restoring wage differentials in the South and elsewhere.

Southwestern mine operators, however, were dissatisfied with the basic daily wage of $4.35 set for that region and indicated mines would remain closed until further adjustments. Sam Bramlette, secretary of the Arkansas-Oklahoma Coal Code Authority, said Johnson's order "means that from 14,000 to 15,000 miners in and around underground mines in the Southwestern states will be out of employment."

Home Clubs

Rocky Mount

The 4H club of Rocky Mount met Thursday morning April 19 with the home demonstration agent, Miss Helen Griffin and Frank Stanley, county agent. Thirteen members were present, also the sponsors, Mrs. Dale Hunt and Luther Steed. Record books were presented to the members and an explanation of the projects was given by the demonstration agent. Another meeting will be held at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Dale Hunt soon.

Charles A. Duryea invented and operated the first successful automobile driven by a gasoline engine in America.

Scanning New Books

By BRUCE CATTON

Police reporters and cops seem to be pretty much alike, in all countries. A New York detective would find kindred spirits on the force at Berlin; a lad from the police beat in Detroit would feel right at home with the reporters who cover Scotland Yard.

So "Crime Reporter," by Georges du Pareq, a Parisian police reporter of many years' experience, hardly seems like a book by a foreigner.

It's a series of anecdotes and reminiscences about the Parisian underworld, wide side-glances at Versailles and Devil's Island; and while it makes interesting reading, you have the feeling that most of it could just as well have happened in Ohio or California.

Mr. du Pareq touches on some of the famous French criminals of recent years, devoting special attention to the notorious "Bluebeard" and to Mata Hari—who, he says, in her last days dictated to him her memoirs, implicating a great many highly placed Frenchmen in her espionage activities.

Unfortunately, he adds that these memoirs have never been published and never will be; they spoil too many reputations.

He also tells of an anarchist plot to assassinate Lindbergh just after the flyer first reached France. The plot was discovered and foiled, he says, just in the nick of time.

His book includes a quite lengthy dissertation on the Parisian Apaches, a strong defense of the Devil's Island penal colony, and some delectable facts about the prevalence in France of things we had considered peculiarly American—kidnaping, crimes of violence, and organized gangs.

Home Clubs

Rocky Mount

The 4H club of Rocky Mount met Thursday morning April 19 with the home demonstration agent, Miss Helen Griffin and Frank Stanley, county agent. Thirteen members were present, also the sponsors, Mrs. Dale Hunt and Luther Steed. Record books were presented to the members and an explanation of the projects was given by the demonstration agent. Another meeting will be held at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Dale Hunt soon.

—FEATURES— Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Broadcloth 12 1/2 c Yard

Spring Maid Prints 12 1/2 c Yard

Wash Dresses

New Shipment

Vat Colors

45c and 69c

MENS

Sailors

And

Soft Straws

69c and 89c

Compton Bros.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

STOP!

at REPHANS

on

Trades Day

LOOK!

At All of Our Wonderful BARGAINS then

BUY!!!

New York Store

THE HEIGHT OF GOOD TASTE

Luckies are made of only the clean center leaves—the middest, best-tasting tobaccos. And then, 'It's toasted' for throat protection. Every Lucky Strike is round, firm, fully packed—no loose ends. That's why Luckies 'keep in condition'—do not dry out. Luckies are always in all ways kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

They Taste Better

Billion to Be Paid Farmers This Year

Middle West Will Get Bulk of U. S. Appropriations

Copyright, 1934 by Associated Press
WASHINGTON — (AP) — American farmers already enriched by nearly $200,000,000, will pocket $1,095,005,010 in benefit payments before the end of 1934.

An analysis of expenditures to be made by the Farm Administration during the present year in its wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco and dairy reduction program indicated that it has only begun to approach its spending stride.

Up to April 1, the administration has paid out $179,702,585 to farmers who agreed to reduce their cotton, wheat and tobacco acreage. Benefit payments to corn and hog farmers are just beginning to trickle out. The dairy program is in its formative stages, tobacco farmers have received only a portion of the money coming to them and the second payment to wheat farmers is yet to be made.

The payments do not include the $23,346,522 spent by the administration in purchasing pork, wheat and dairy products for relief needs to eliminate surpluses and remove them as price-depressing factors from the market.

In the next eight months the administration will continue purchasing wheat and pork in reduced amounts, will make drastic surplus-reduction purchases of dairy products, and will enter the beef cattle market for the first time to make purchases for relief needs.

Fisher Body Plant Faces New Strike

7,000 Workers Scheduled to Walk Out in Cleveland Monday

CLEVELAND, Ohio — (AP) — A strike of a "majority" of 7,000 workers at the Fisher Body company plant here was set for 7 a. m. Monday, James P. McWeeney, American Federation of Labor organizer and president of the Cleveland Metal Trades Council, announced late Sunday after a meeting of 1,200 union members. Company officials declined to comment.

The strike vote climaxed a three-month fight by the union for recognition, McWeeney said. An announcement two weeks ago that a union committee had been recognized for collective bargaining later was repudiated by the company, he said.

Machinists, tool and die makers, body makers and representatives of practically every other craft employed at the plant, all members of United Automobile Workers Federal Labor Union No. 18,614, will walk out, McWeeney announced. He said the vote was unanimous in favor of the strike. On April 10, both union and company officials announced that a union committee had been recognized, and union men said the recognition was the first given by the company in any of its plants to a duly accredited union of the American Federation of Labor.

COMMON OLD ITCH Is Still With Us

Prescription No. 200,000 will cure it. It kills the parasites in the skin.

50c

JOHN S. GIBSON
Drug Company

"The REXALL Store"
Hope, Ark. Established 1885

KEEN & MCKEAN

Keen, knife-like strokes that cut her through the water at a tremendous rate, may bring to Olive McKean, above, the crown of Lenore Kight, Homestead, Pa., free style champion. Olive, a Seattle, Wash., girl, already has tied one of Miss Kight's records—the 100-yard free style event.

Labor. This was followed by a statement from E. F. Fisher, Detroit, general manager of the Fisher Body Corporation, that "the Fisher body division of the General Motors Corporation has not recognized the American Federation of Labor local in Cleveland or in any other city."

Yerger Wins 2nd in Track Meeting

Takes 4 Firsts for Total of 31 Points at Pine Bluff

Yerger High School of Hope won second place in the state track and field meet held at Pine Bluff Friday and Saturday in which 12 negro high schools participated.

Hope won four first places, three of which are new records. In the running broad jump Wilson leaped 18 feet 9½ inches to break the old mark. Davis set a new record in the 220-yard dash and Nelson established a new mark for the 230-yard hurdles. Hope scored 31 points, only 1½ points behind Meckel High School of Pine Bluff, winners of the meet. Dunbar High School of Little Rock took third place with 30 points.

It was the first time in the history of Yerger school that Hope has been represented. The team entered the meet after three weeks' training, coached by J. H. Harris, negro vocational agriculture instructor.

Hope winners are: Nelson, second place in 88-yard hurdles; Davis, second place in 100-yard dash; Nelson, first place in 220-yard hurdles; C. Nelson, J. Nelson, Davis and Stuart, first place in 880-yard relay.

Penton, second place in 440-yard dash; second place in 880-yard dash; Davis, first place in 220-yard dash; Wilson, first place in running broad jump.

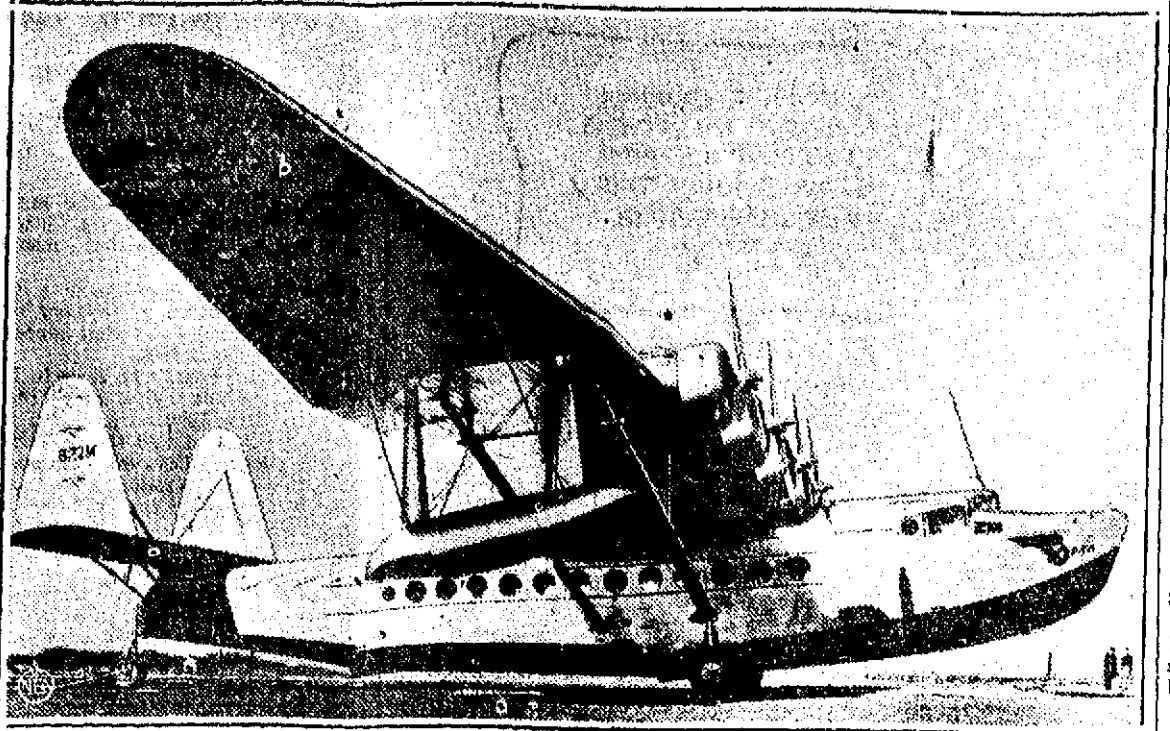

So They Say!

It will need more than a brain trust to turn the United States communist—Samuel Insull.

The sorry fact is that the average congressman is entirely willing to buy votes so long as he can compound the felony by doing it with somebody else's money—Prof. Edwin S. Corwin of Princeton.

If American teachers are sissies it is not their choice. They have become sissified in conformity to the public demand that they act in a way which is too good to be true—Dr. James Carr Duff, of the New York University School of Education.

New Air Colossus Will Fly U. S.-Buenos Aires Route

A new colossus of the air is this "super-clipper" ship of the Pan-American Airways, to be placed in service at once on the mail-passenger route from the U. S. to Buenos Aires. Its enormous size is illustrated strikingly in comparison with the men shown extreme right. This 19-ton, 3000-horsepower aerial giant can fly 3500 miles, non-stop, with mail, and 1200 miles with a full passenger complement, 1000 pounds of mail and express, and a crew of five. It is the first of six such planes ordered by Pan-American.

Battlefield

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson from near Garland City spent last Monday night with Mrs. Clara Roe. They were accompanied home Tuesday by Mrs. Clara Roe.

Mrs. Lou Ellinberg from Texarkana, returned home last Friday after a few days visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Johnson and children visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlin Moses spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Tarpley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Rogers of El Dorado are here on a few days visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Beard and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenzie Atkins and Mrs. Maggie Atkins spent Sunday with Sam Williams and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sellous Atkins at Saratoga.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben McBoys spent Sunday with relatives near Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sellous Atkins and little daughter, Barbara Jean, are spending a few days with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bracy Smith from Spring Hill visited Mr. Dan Pilkinton and family Sunday.

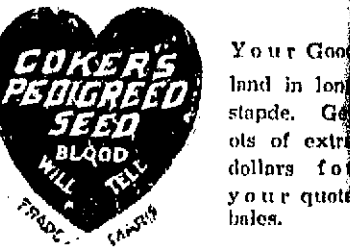

Little Barbara Gene Atkins spent Sunday night with little Dorothy June Wilson.

It is impossible for a Catholic to approve Nazi principles.—Cav. Justinian Soredi.

Took CARDUI During The Change of Life

Cardui is purely vegetable, harmless, for women of all ages. Many women who have used it advise their daughters and friends to take it. "I took Cardui for weakness during the change of life," writes Mrs. Clara C. Allen, of Enfield, Conn. "It helped me and built up my strength. I also gave it to my daughters and they were helped. I think Cardui is a good medicine during the change and for girls. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit you, consult a physician."

THINK!! Now is the Time to Plant

Cotton Seed TOM KINSER Agent

TRADES DAY

Thursday April 26th--Last Trades Day Till May 24th

Wed. 25th

ROTARY VS. KIWANIS

See the DONKEY PARADE 3:30 P. M. DOWN TOWN BRASS BAND

SAFE!

Thurs. 26th

Young Business Men's Association vs. THE WINNER

FREE AUCTION 10 A. M.

Awarding of Prizes 4 P. M.

DONKEY BASE BALL

See the COMING SPORT of a CENTURY. ALL of the PLAYER Sare MOUNTED on DONKEYS

TWO GAMES....GAMES CALLED AT 8 P. M.

The Young Business Men's Association has challenged the winner of Wednesday night's game, the contest to be played Thursday night

Admission Adults 25c; Children 10c

THURSDAY, FRIDAY And SATURDAY SPECIALS

Supreme FLOUR	20 Lbs.
Quality Guaranteed	SUGAR
24 Pounds 79c	94c
48 Pounds $1.52

Bring Us Your Eggs

Complete Assortment Aluminum Ware, Tinware, Enamelware and Glassware

9 Ounce Water Glasses	Glass Lamps
3 For 10c	Comp. 49c

Convex Kettles and SAUCE POTS	FRYING And Baking Pans
29c, 39c, 49c	10c, 15c, 20c

Ask For Trades Day Tickets

Compton Bros.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

3:30 pm

A Big Time For Everybody

TRADES DAY THURSDAY, APRIL 26

BIG PARADE!

Lead by

High School Brass Band

Stamps 42 Piece Brass Band

Sponsored by YOUNG BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION

3:30 pm

Baseball Manager

HORIZONTAL

2. Who was the baseball executive in the picture?

12. Exclamation of surprise.

14. Agent.

16. Verbal.

17. Laughter sound.

18. Eggs of fishes.

20. Platform.

22. Form of "be."

23. 2000 pounds.

24. To soothe.

26. Clan symbol.

28. Rall (bird).

29. A right.

31. Male cat.

32. Adhered closely.

33. Extraordinary.

35. Discreet.

36. Betrothals.

37. Right (abbr.).

39. South America.

40. Subplots.

41. Southeast.

42. God of war.

44. Males.

45. To merit.

47. An actuality.

48. Mimosaceous tree.

49. Sounds.

50. Sorrowful.

51. Ozone.

52, 53. What position did he play in his early days?

VERTICAL

1. Final playoff games.

2. Alleged force.

3. Star tray.

4. ivy.

5. Laundry.

6. Metric unit of weight.

9. Male sheep.

10. Mordant dye.

11. The Giants were under his (pl.).

13. Mohammedan nymph.

15. Tumultuous disturbance.

17. Cornucopia.

19. Funeral oration.

21. Place of business.

23. Journeys.

25. Waterfalls.

27. Standard type measure.

28. Bed laths.

30. Language in the Philippine.

32. Cone shaped.

34. Minor note.

35. Masculine pronoun.

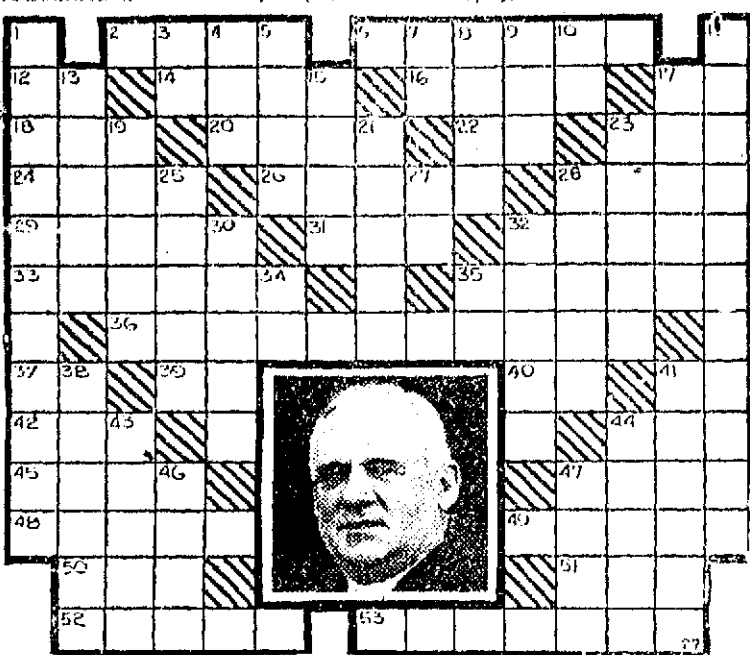

38. Trusty.

41. To discriminate.

43. Exclamation.

46. Breeding places.

47. Froth.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

EGAD, LADS, LISTEN! I BELIEVE THIS IS IT — "LOST-MALE SEALYHAM TERRIER-ALL WHITE — ANSWERS TO NAME OF DUKE — LICENSE B-639 — LIBERAL REWARD — SEE IF HIS LICENSE IS B-639!"

THAT'S WHAT IT IS! B-639! MAJOR, THIS IS YOUR CALLING — PROFESSIONAL LOST DOG FINDER — YES SIR, A SCROOT SLEUTH!

HE ATTRACTS DOGS! THEY TAKE TO HIM LIKE BLOND HAIRS TO A BLUE SERGE SHOULDER!

AND NOW FOR THE REWARD

OUT OUR WAY

WHY, CURLY, I'VE GOT A WHOLE RAFT OF REAL CLASSY WRITING PAPER, AND YOU'RE WELCOME TO ALL YOU WANT OF IT. THAT'S SLOPPY, WRITING A LETTER ON WRAPPING PAPER.

WES, YUH KNOW, GITT'N' YORE PITCHER TAKEN WITH A HOMELY FELLER MAKES YUH BETTER LOOKIN' WELL, WRAPPIN' PAPER MAKES MY KINDER WRITIN' BETTER LOOKIN' — HANDSOME, ALMOST.

A FITTING BACKGROUND.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

BUT, I DON'T UNDERSTAND! WHY IS EVERY-ONE LAUGHING?

YEAH! WOTS SO FUNNY? MEBBE WE'D LIKE TO LAUGH, TOO — MEBBE, I SAID —

WHY, THIS IS A MOVIE COMPANY, FOLKS — SHOOTING SOME SCENES FOR AN OLD FASHIONED THRILLER —

THE FUSS YOU HEARD, MISS, WAS BECAUSE THAT LOW-LIFE RASCAL, DAPPER DAN, SMIRKING OVER THERE —

HEH HEH HEH

Imagine!

WASN'T DOING RIGHT BY OUR NELL — BUT, YOU'LL HAVE TO ADMIT, THE LITTLE GIRL PUT UP A TITANIC STRUGGLE, TO THE BITTER END —

HOWEVER, EVERYTHING TURNED OUT HUNKY-DORY — PROUD THAT TRUTH WILL OUT, RIGHT IS MIGHT, VIRTUE IS ITS OWN REWARD, AND —

GALS OUGHTN'T TO LEARN T'WIND THEIR OWN BUSINESS.

ALLEY OOP

C'MON, BRONTY — NICE OL' BRONTY — HAVE A NICE LEAF — OL' FELLA!!

OOP, YOU FOOL! DON'T NEVER RISK THAT!

HE'S GONNA TAKE IT! NOW, GUZ, WHEN HE STARTS TO GRAB AT IT, WE'LL JUMP OVER ON TO HIS HEAD — DON'T ARGUE! DO AS I SAY!

All Aboard!

GET READY TO JUMP, GUZ —

AWRIGHT — BUT I HOPE YOU KNOW WHAT YOU'RE DOIN'!

WASH TUBBS

YAT'S ONE! YAT'S WUNNA TH BANDITS.

SH-H!

WASH TUBBS

WASH TUBBS

A Capture!

THEN STRIDES TO THE ADOBE HUT WHERE WASH AND EASY ARE WAITING.

HANDS UP!!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

FRECKLES IS LOOKING FOR A CHANCE TO EARN SOME VACATION MONEY...

I DON'T SEE WHY YOU WON'T SPEAK TO MR. HEIL ABOUT GIVING ME A JOB, DAD!

NO, MY BOY, ONE MEMBER OF A FAMILY IS ENOUGH IN ANY OFFICE... YOU'LL HAVE TO GET A JOB ON YOUR OWN — IT WILL TEACH YOU TO BE INDEPENDENT!

DID YOU HAVE ANY LUCK TODAY?

Not So Dumb!

WELL, I WAS STANDING IN A BOOK-SHOP WAITING TO BE HIRED, WHEN A LADY CAME IN, PICKED UP A BOOK AND HANDED ME TWO DOLLARS — I TURNED THE MONEY OVER TO THE OWNER AND HE GAVE ME A DIME!

NOT BAD AT ALL... AND JUST THINK, IT TOOK YOU ONLY A MINUTE TO EARN TEN CENTS!

BUT JUST THINK HOW MANY Dimes IT WOULD TAKE TO GET ME A VACATION!!

TOMORROW, I'M GOING OUT AFTER BIGGER STUFF... I'M GONNA LOITER IN A PIANO STORE!!

THE NEW FANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

WELL, YOU MEN ARE SO SUPERIOR!! TEN OF YOU WITH GUNS COULDN'T BRING IN THAT CONVICT, BUT ONE WOMAN UNARMED NABBED HIM AND ORDERED HIM AROUND LIKE A FLUNKY!

HOT ANY MAN IN SKIRTS COULD HAVE DONE AS MUCH —

SAYS YOU!!

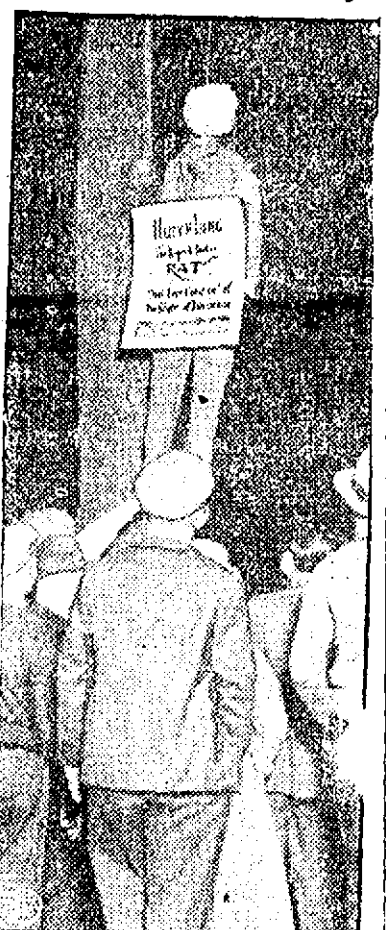

Well Broken!

YES, SAYS I! LISTEN — THAT YEGG COULDN'T HELP TAKING ORDERS FROM A WOMAN —

HE'S BEEN MARRIED FOUR TIMES!!

BARBS

Another Necktie Party for Huey

Let us hope all the big guns are dalled to Washington, when the Senate begins investigating the munitions trust.

Mary Garden calls Samuel Insull a great destroyer. Reduced from a dreadnaught.

That 231-mile pole recorded on Mt. Washington, N. H., was almost strong enough to blow down a congressional investigator's dignity.

The great question is not what was said, but what was served at the momentous Dr. Wirt dinner.

Two bulls got loose in as many days New York recently, but that's nothing. There's a bull loose in Washington almost every day congress is in session.

Sell It! Find It! Rent It! Buy It! in the Hope Star

Market Place

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.

1 time, 10c line, min. 30c

For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad.

3 times, 6c line, min. 50c

6 times, 5c line, min. 90c

26 times, 3c line, min. $2.70 (Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE — Want ads may be charged with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — Furnished apartment at 410 North Washington, Phone 669-J, 23-31-c.

NOTICE

Lawn mowers sharpened and repaired. Leave orders at McEneaney Hardware Co. Satisfaction guaranteed. T. B. Fenwick, 20-31c

LOST

LOST — Two black leather bags containing woman's and baby's wearing apparel on Lewisville Highway. Reward for return to Josie Kitchers, Lewisville, Ark. 23-11p

LOST — Green white-gold woman's wrist watch. Link bracelet. Reward. Hilda Morgan, Capital Hotel. 23-31-p

LOST — Scatter bitch dog, black and white spotted, 10 months old. Missing since Thursday. Half face white, other half is black. Reward. Phone 261 or 90.

LOST — Billfold containing $25 on streets of Fulton. Reward. Scellous Atkins, Saratoga, Ark. 21-31-c

WANTED

WANTED — Middle-aged woman to be combination companion to wife and housekeeper. T. A. Womble, 21-31p

Best Point Sold, Hope Bldg. Mot. Co.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Several good milk cows. Will trade or on a credit. Bryant & Co. 23-31-p

FOR SALE — Several hundred bales of Alfalfa and Johnson Grass Hay. J. B. Johnson, Emmet, Rt. 1. 19-61p

Gloss-fast enamels. Hope Bldg. Mot. Co.

The flair for hanging Huey Long in effigy has spread from Louisiana to Kentucky. Here is a dummy Huey hanging from a tree in Louisville, placed there by admirers of E. B. Headley, prominent turfman, target of Huey's most recent attack, with some pleased spectators viewing the sight.

SKATE While the Rink is Open Will Close This Week Skates 25c Admission Free HOPE ROLLER RINK

TEXACO

Third & Shover

COMPLETE TIRE SERVICE

Better let us look them over, repair the weak spots or supply you with new fully guaranteed Firestone Tires at our very economical prices.

Dersey McKee Phone 22 Thomas Boyett 3rd & Shover

Starting Thursday Morning April 26th 8:30 a. m.

The Most Startling Event We Have Ever Held!

You'll SAVE In This Offering of New Spring Merchandise! The offerings shown here are the very latest for Spring and Summer; the values are so worth-while that you will want to buy now for many weeks ahead. Make your shopping list and come right down to This Value Giving Sale for your share of the New Fashions and Savings in store for you!

BIG STORE WIDE VALUE GIVING

Sale Opens
Thursday
April 26

SALE

Sale Opens
Thursday
April 26

SAVE

Men's and Boys Harvest Hats. Going on sale at the lowest price possible—
19c Each

CAPS
New patterns, a big assortment to choose from. On sale—
25c Each

PURE SILK SLIPS
Bias Cut 98c Each
Shadow proof, Lace Trim top to bottom.

WORK SHIRTS
Fast color!! Triple Stitched! Full Cut!
45c Each

Ladies Bloomers and Sleep-ins
19c Pair

SPECIAL
Electric Bulbs
60 watts electric light bulbs. Plain and Frost
6 For 39c

BATH SIZE 22x24 INCH "Cannon" TOWELS
You'll Want a Good Supply at
17c EACH
The name "Cannon" assures you of their quality. Absorbent, even loop weave. Fast color borders of pink, blue, green or gold.

MENS NEW FELT SPRING HATS
Outstanding features of newness and smartness, in these Hats. On Sale—
$3.00 Values $1.89
$5.00 Values $2.98

Yard Wide, Fast Color PONGEE PRINTS
Pretty new spring patterns in guaranteed fast colored prints, 36 inches wide. Patterns for the baby, Miss and Matron. Over a hundred new patterns from which to select. On Sale—
11c YARD

Yard Wide CHAMBRAY
A real good grade. Buy a big supply now. On Sale—
7c YARD

36-Inch Brown DOMESTIC
Not the cheap slazy kind, but a good weight full yard wide brown muslin. On Sale brown muslin.
5 Yds. On Sale 39c Yd.

BATISTE
Fast color batiste in all the wanted colors. On Sale—
17c YARD

Fast Color Yard Wide CRETONNE
Here is an assortment of values which formerly sold up to 25c a yard. All brand new goods. Choice—
12½c YARD

TOWELS
This is a real good towel. Buy your supply now. Only
8c EACH

Men's Blue Denim OVERALLS
This is a real garment, made of good 22½ weight denim, cut full and roomy. The price is right. Buy now. ON SALE—
79c Pair

Men's Work Pants
Here is the best work pant on today's market for the price. Solid blues and greys. All sizes. Buy your supply now—
79c Pair

PLOW SHOES
Black Veal uppers, Scout pattern, standard sewed and latched soles of Panther Composition with leather stitch sole. Sizes 6 to 12.
$1.39

Men's Covert Cloth WORK SHIRTS
These are made of good heavy covert cloth, two button pockets, coat style, square tails, all sizes. Blue, Gray and Tan.
ON SALE 69c EACH

The EVENT of THE CENTURY

Ladies New Spring and Summer Dresses
Canton Crepes, Sand Crepes and New Printed Crepes at 3.98

Frocks with all the new fashion points you have been reading about: high neck-lines, new puff sleeves, ties and bows, contrasting trims, flared skirts! You'll be as delighted to choose from these dresses as we are proud to offer them!

Ladies New Spring House Frocks
You'll enjoy choosing your Spring wash frocks from this sparkling collection. All are brand new: All are copies of higher priced frocks! Neat tailoring! Newest fashion details. Pleasing colors! When you see them, you'll see why we say they're real values at this low price... Many with Self Belts... Sashes! Flared and Pleated Skirts.
88c

Ladies White Shoes
Ladies White Slippers
One large group of ladies and misses white kid and fabrics, in strap, pump and tie, with low Military and high heels. All broken lots and small sizes, but with lots of wear in them. Values up to $5.00
1.00

Ladies Dress White FOOT WEAR
This group is not the regular $1.98 values in white Kid but the best styles in 3 eyelets and pumps in high or low heels, that you have been paying $2.50 up for, but our price is 1.97

Ladies Arch Footwear
This "Authorized Arch Renewer" line made by the second largest manufacturer of shoes in America consists of tongueless ties, low heel sport oxfords and Natural leather heel ties in white pig skin.
All $5.00 Values $3.97

Ladies Wash Dresses
Guaranteed fast color Prints, made into snappy and distinctive styles seen only in the better garments. It's a rare find of frocks of such good quality cloths at these low prices. One lot—
49c

Mens Dress Shirts
Fancies or solid colors. Fast colors, full cut, all sizes. Fancies of new stripes and figures; solids of white, blue and tan. A $1.25 value! On Sale—
69c

HANOVER SHIRTS
These shirts are the best in town for the money. On Sale—
1.19

Men's Dress Oxfords
You will be surprised at the wonderful values in this lot. Black veal calf upper, high grade composition soles and many of them with arch supports. Values to $4.00—$1.97

Men's Fine Dress Oxfords
This group consists of the footwear in style. Made of genuine Glazed Calf, in plain toes, straight toes and narrow pointed toes, and every pair has first grade prime oak soles, a $5.00 value for $3.47

Men's New Spring and Summer SUITS
Sizes 34 to 44

Linens, Seersuckers and Tropical Worsted
Two and 3 Piece Suits
There's a certain easy feeling about them that contributes much to the sensation of coolness you experience on even the hottest days... and they're smart! New, cut for comfort and tailored in the manner of a custom built suit. Sizes 34 to 44
$8.48

MEN'S WORSTED SUITS
Beautifully Tailored
Made of a fine weave that lends itself to smart patterns, Tans, Blues and Greys. Sizes 34 to 44.
Sale Price $13.47

NEW SPRING HATS
Turban or Brim Styles!

Brim, hairline models, off-the-face effects, turbans—in the snier, new Spring colors. Small and large head sizes. $1.25 Values—
95c

Special! Sheer Chiffon HOSIERY
Full Fashion—Perfect quality evenly knit of clear, pure silk. They combine beauty and durability. Sale Price—
59c

Shirts-Shorts
The Shirts: ribbed white cotton. The Shorts: broad cloth, elastic at sides.
22c

Men's Dress Sox
2pr. 25c

Pay Cash~Pay Less!
PATTERSONS
Department Store
"EVERYBODY'S CASH STORE"